A 41-YEAR-OLD man has been accused of attempting to murder his mother and sent to Crown Court by magistrates.

Edward Oxford, of Risbridge Drive, Kedington, appeared before Sudbury magistrates on Wednesday charged with attempting to murder Christine Oxford at Kedington on or between October 8 and 9.

He is also charged with possessing an offensive weapon, namely a sheath knife.

Magistrates sent his case for a preliminary hearing at Ipswich Crown Court on Thursday, October 18, and he was remanded in custody until then, after making no application for bail.

Suffolk Police confirmed that the police helicopter had responded to the incident on Monday night.

An ambulance also attended the scene and treated the woman.

She was taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital, Cambridge, and her condition is described as stable.

Local residents told the Weekly News they were shocked and horrified that such an incident had happened in what was a quiet cul-de-sac.

Parents in shock over nursery's closure plan

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A POPULAR Haverhill playgroup is being forced to close because of rising running costs.

Shocked parents learned this week that the Cartwheels centre in Camps Road, Haverhill, will close on Friday, October 26.

Although some spaces are available at Cartwheels' other centre in Greenfields Way, there will be an overall shortfall of 24 places. Families will have to queue on Monday when spots are allocated on a first come, first served basis to those handing in application forms.

Tina Martin, of Sorrell Walk, Haverhill, fears she will have to give up her job if her three-year-old son Alfie lost his place. She said: "It is not much notice and I think it is really sad because it is such a good group and got a really good Ofsted report.

"I think there is going to be quite a queue of people on Monday looking for places, but there won't be enough for everyone.

"Alfie used to go to Cottage Day nursery, but that closed down. We need more nursery provision in the town, not less."

She added: "I feel gutted, my little boy really loves it there, it is so spacious. They have done so much hard work there it is such a shame."

Wendy Marlow, of Shaftesbury Court, said her son Michael, had made great progress since he started at the group at Easter.

She said: "We have only got three weeks to find somewhere else, which is not long. He is my fourth child, but he was hardly talking until he started there and now he does not stop.

"My daughter went there as well and it is a really good group. It just seems really sad that it is closing when the need for it is there. There won't be a place for every child at Greenfields Way."

Tracey Davey, one of the Cartwheels trustees, said they were sad to have to close, but all staff would still have jobs, with the breakfast and after-school clubs moving to Greenfields Way.

"We are absolutely gutted," she said.

"We have tried every way we could to keep the nursery open, we should have closed it three months ago, but we decided to give one last push to see if we could raise the money.

"The rent has gone up, but it is not just that, it is all our other costs as well. If we kept going we could end up losing both centres, so we have consolidated at the building we own at Greenfields Way. We will try to offer places to as many children as we can."

Hunt for on petrol thief

Residents in Helions Road, Steeple Bumpstead, were forced from their homes by June's floods and on returning to inspect the damage on July 9, found that their homes had been broken into.

Among the property stolen was the number plate T287 JBJ.

The plate was later spotted on a blue Ford car shown in the CCTV image released by police, below.

The car and its driver were caught on CCTV on the forecourt of Sainsbury's petrol station, Fifth Avenue, Harlow, on the same day when the driver made off without paying for fuel.

If you have any information call Detective

Constable Susie Shaw at Halstead CID on (01787) 472 451, or Crime-stoppers on 0800 555 111.

School ropes in pupils for charity jump

ENERGETIC primary school pupils skipped away with more than £500 for charity.

All 116 pupils at Kedington Primary School spent the morning on the playground for the Jump Rope for Heart event and raised £557 for the British Heart Foundation from sponsorship.

A spokesman for the school said each class took turns to lead the skipping games during a two-hour session, and staff had been pleased to see that the new games had become a popular playground activity ever since.

Taking part in the event is part of the Healthy Schools Initiative and was enjoyed by pupils, the spokesman said.

Police teams plan big garage clear-out

A GARAGE clean-up in Haverhill will be part of a series of events held across west Suffolk to coincide with the 25th anniversary of Neighbourhood Watch schemes.

On Monday and Tuesday, the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood teams and Havebury Housing will be tackling parking problems in the Chalkstone estate by freeing up dozens of unused garages and making them available for tenants.

The event is part of Not in My Neighbourhood Week, a national awareness campaign aimed to highlight the crime reduction and community safety work being done across the country.

Sergeant Sarah Bartley said: "We have obtained details of all vacant garages owned by Havebury on the estate. We will open them up, if necessary search them and clear them out, then Havebury can let them out to new tenants."

"The benefit of renting out a garage is enormous – tenants will have somewhere secure to store their belongings and cars to prevent them from becoming a victim of crime."

Sgt Bartley said the Safer Neighbourhood teams would start to enforce parking regulations once the garages were cleaned out.

"There will no longer be the excuse that there aren't any garages to use."

People do not have to be an existing Havebury tenant to rent a garage. For more information, contact Havebury on 0845 612 3851.

Security warning for shoppers

HAVERHILL shoppers are being warned to zip up their valuables after two incidents in the town last week. One theft and an attempted theft from bags happened between 10.20am and 10.30am on Friday in shops on Jubilee Walk and High Street. In the first incident, the victim spotted the suspects going into her handbag before anything was taken. In the second, thieves stole a purse containing cards and money while the bag was left unattended for a few minutes. The offenders were a man and a woman, both of Eastern European appearance.

The woman is in her early 20s and is described as slim, with shoulder length dark hair, around 5ft 1in tall and was wearing a gold or yellow shawl-type top.

The man is also in his early 20s, slim, with short dark hair, around 5ft 8in tall and was wearing a hip-length leather jacket.

Police are advising people to keep their bags zipped up and never leave them unattended.

Purse bells are available from the police station to try to deter thieves.

Anyone with any information about these incidents should call Haverhill police on (01284) 774100, quoting reference number HH/07/2312.

Gardeners turn weeds into prizes

PUPILS have been reaping – and eating – the fruits of their labours after scooping a gardening prize.

Keen gardeners at Haverhill's Castle Hill Middle School, in Burton End, Haverhill, picked up a prize in this year's Haverhill in Bloom contest.

The project at the school was launched last year to restore an overgrown garden to its former glory.

The students will be eating what they have grown.

Rebecca Baldwin, who runs the after-school gardening club, said: "The green-fingered pupils have worked hard planting bulbs weeding, watering and new plans include an organic vegetable patch."

Police chief takes charge

A NEW police chief has taken over command of part of the region.

Chief Supt Paul Marshall, 43, has been appointed head of the Suffolk police western area, which includes Haverhill.

He has been a police officer for 25 years and his previous appointments include a period as the sector commander at Mildenhall.

He has taken up his new appointment, based at Bury St Edmunds, in a move from the force headquarters at Martlesham, near Ipswich, where he was head of corporate development.

New projects due to be introduced under his command include the use of head-cameras for police officers to automatically record evidence. A trial scheme is being run in West Suffolk before the equipment is introduced in the rest of the county.

Big day for Owen

A CAT-SHAPED cake will be cut as part of celebrations for the official opening of Haverhill's revamped town centre.

A plaque marking the completion of the £460,000 enhancement scheme at Jubilee Walk will be unveiled on Monday.

The cake will be shaped like Owen the cat, who was a popular character in the area and is immortalised in an abstract sculpture on a new granite seat.

The project has been dogged by delays and Owen's sculpture has met with mixed reactions.

Drunk teens 'making village life a misery'

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

ANGRY villagers say drunken youths are running rampage and have even tried to "firebomb" their library.

One Kedington resident, who asked not to be named, blamed a lack of police presence for the increased damage and anti-social behaviour.

The resident said: "Things have got really bad in the village lately, and there is no police presence at all. There are groups of youths carrying crates of beer around. They are quite brazen about it.

"There is damage caused all over the village, everywhere every weekend. They even tried to firebomb the library, and nothing seems to be done about it."

Another resident sent an anonymous letter to police, and others reported repeated damage to Kedington Primary School, including lead stolen from the roof twice, communal wheelie bins thrown in the river, tyres slashed, number plates and signs stolen and old people scared in their homes.

The resident said: "These mindless criminal losers are taking over what was such a lovely place to be, with a community spirit to rival many villages. They just seem to be out of reach of the law."

A Suffolk police spokesman confirmed there had been three attacks on the library over the past three weeks, the first on Saturday, September 29, when something burning appeared to have been pushed through the door, causing some scorching inside.

There were two more incidents the following weekend when a panel put on the damaged library door was ripped off.

Chief Inspector Mike Bacon, St Edmundsbury District Commander, said: "Suffolk Constabulary are aware of recent crime reports and anti-social behaviour in Kedington, notably at the primary school and the community centre.

"The St Edmundsbury Rural South Safer Neighbourhood Team is investigating these offences, and I would encourage anyone with information concerning these incidents to contact the police.

"There are a small minority of individuals intent upon committing crime at these locations, and we are seeking the help of local residents to identify the offenders.

"Patrols have been increased, and a number of key lines of enquiry are being followed."

Pizza hero saves man from burning kitchen

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A PIZZA delivery man has been hailed a hero after rescuing a man from the burning kitchen of one of his regular customers.

Ali Yagir, 37, who has always wanted to be a firefighter, was giving fellow staff member Ayhan Solmaz a lift home from his Dial-a-Pizza business in Haverhill, in the early hours, when the drama unfolded.

He spotted flames coming from the home of his neighbour, a regular customer at his shop.

Knowing the neighbour Sophie was a single mum with a young child, Mr Yagir did not hesitate to go in and tackle the blaze after calling the fire brigade.

His neighbour and her child were away for the night, but her lodger was sitting in the smoke-filled kitchen and could not be roused.

Mr Yagir and his friend put out the fire and dragged the coughing man from the house before the fire service arrived. The incident happened on Sunday, September 30.

Mr Yagir said: "We saw flames coming from the kitchen. My neighbour Sophie is also a good customer and we knew she had a lodger too.

"We could see flames coming from a pan on the hob in the kitchen and could see someone sitting on the sofa, but not moving. We banged loudly on the door, but he did not respond, so we called the fire brigade and broke the door to get in.

"I know health and safety from my business, so I put a wet blanket over the fire on the hob and helped the man outside.

"He was really coughing from all the smoke. When the firemen came they said we did a good job. Luckily nobody was hurt, but the kitchen was all black and full of smoke.

"The man said later he should buy me a bottle of whisky and the firemen said he had a lucky escape."

Mr Yagir came to England from Turkey eight years ago, married wife Wendy, and they have two children, Dayfun, six, and Doros, two. He started up his pizza delivery business more than four years ago with his brother, after twice unsuccessfully applying to join the fire service.

He said: "One of the firemen recognised me. I did want to join the fire service, but my written English was not good enough.

"Now I am a successful businessman, so I have lost my interest in it. I was glad to help and the gentleman was very grateful."

Mrs Yagir said she believed her husband was a hero. She said: "If it had not been for the staff of Haverhill Dial-a-Pizza, the whole terrace of Snowdon Court would have been consumed in flames."

Whistleblower's 'cover up' charge

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A PREGNANT carer who claims she was forced out of her job for "whistleblowing" has accused her former employers of instigating a "disgusting" cover-up.

At a resumed employment tribunal in Bury St Edmunds last week, Krystal Robinson, 25, said bullying and harassment from her line manager Sally Rodwell made it impossible for her to return to her job as a carer at the Haverhill Community Resource Unit.

Miss Robinson said she had held the post for five years before she told management that another staff member had verbally abused vulnerable adults.

Mrs Rodwell failed to attend the hearing, but Anne Hubbard, the unit's manager, said Miss Robinson was moved from front line services for her own protection after another member of staff was assaulted by a disabled customer.

Mrs Hubbard said Miss Robinson's complaint that colleague Peter Eves had sworn at disabled customers had been investigated and a protocol put in place to deal with the situation if it happened again.

Mrs Hubbard said: "There was a lot of intimidation of Sally.

"Following an incident when a staff member was assaulted by a customer a lot of staff weren't happy with the outcome because no charges were pressed and people wanted revenge."

The tribunal heard that Miss Robinson had gone on to work at Broadlands Hall, near Haverhill, after she left the CRU, but left before she qualified for maternity pay because no risk assessment was carried out, after she had asked for one.

She said: "I left for the sake of my unborn child, because I felt I was at risk. A lot of the children we looked after had serious, violent behaviour. They were very volatile and unpredictable, there was no pattern to it."

Miss Robinson, whose baby is due on December 31, said after the hearing that she felt compelled to reveal what had happened at the resource unit.

She said: "I think it is disgusting, it is a big cover-up. This has never been about money, they have offered me two sums of money and I have refused.

"It is about the fact that I told my manager this abuse had happened and nothing was done about it. Nothing will be done about that place unless something serious happens."

Suffolk County Council denies that Miss Robinson was unfairly dismissed or caused detriment for making a public interest disclosure.

The tribunal panel is expected to deliver its judgment within two weeks.

Help us keep you informed. We want your news. If your village or club is planning an event, let us know. If your organisation recently had an interesting meeting, let us have a report. Kedington

MEMBERS of Kedington Institute enjoyed a visit to Hundon Village Hall for a group meeting with other members from Thurlow, Haverhill, Hundon, Sturmer, and Clare.

The event began with the singing of Jerusalem, and then each institute's secretary gave a two-minute report on what they had been doing over the previous year.

The highlight of the evening was a talk by prominent local historian Clive Paine entitled "Who do you think you are?" He used his involvement with the Jeremy Paxman BBC programme of the same name as a springboard to give some advice about finding information on ancestors, and his talk was both informative and very entertaining. His enthusiasm and interest were obvious, and very infectious.

Jeremy Paxman's family originally came from East Anglia, but moved to Yorkshire. Clive said that during the agricultural revolution, when jobs in farming became very scarce, 4,000 people are known to have moved to Yorkshire and Lancashire to work in the expanding cotton and wool trades, and an amazing 2,000 of these came from East Anglia. The evening ended with speeches of thanks.

■ At a meeting of the community council last week, chairman Steve Brown welcomed members and minutes of the September meeting were agreed as a true record. It was again reported that the future of cricket club garage was still in abeyance.

Thanks were expressed to those who helped on the centre clean-up day which had been most successful. However, a disturbing amount of vandalism had taken place at the centre, resulting in the skylight being broken and bins being dumped in the river. This all cost the association money it could ill afford. Following a discussion, it was agreed to purchase two new storage bins.

Treasurer Sue Brown reported that quite a lot of money had been spent recently on upgrading the toilets, a new fire door and repairs to the broken skylight, although some of this had been offset with substantial donations from the drama group and carpet bowls club.

Arrangements for the third firework and fun night on Saturday, November 3, were considered and the programme produced. Meetings with the police and security team had taken place. The four-hour programme commences at 6pm with the judging of the Guy competition in the centre with a £20 voucher prize for the winner. At 6.45pm, there will be a Parade of the Guys and the lighting of the bonfire at 7pm. The first firework display starts at 7.15pm and the second, larger one, is at 8.30pm. Closing time is at 10pm with free admission and parking. Attractions will include tombola, face painting, bottles and glow wands, and a raffle for a luxury Christmas hamper and other prizes. Food and drink will include BBQ, burgers and hot dogs, with soup, popcorn, tea and coffee with cookies, soft drinks and mulled wine. A beer tent will be available and there will also be children's fairground rides and a bouncy castle.

■ With vandalism on the increase in the village, a meeting with the police was held at the library on Tuesday afternoon, chaired by Pc Ruth Horton, of the Safer Neighbourhood Team, and attended by 20 people, but it was pointed out that an evening meeting would have drawn a much larger attendance as parishioners are extremely alarmed at the increase of vandalism, particularly at the school and community centre.

Many voiced their fears and complained at the lack of police coverage in the village. However, Pc Horton gave an assurance that police cover in Kedington had increased, but they had an absence of any particular culprits to target and called for anyone with evidence of who was behind the vandalism to enlighten the police with names. In line with many reports, it was plain that far too much police time was taken up with form filling, when they should be patrolling the streets of the 32 villages that comprised the local patch. Since the meeting, reports have been received of further vandalism, including attempted arson at the library and broken windows at the school, which had then been boarded up, but the boards removed.

Pc Horton appeals for information.

■ A beetle drive with fish and chip supper in aid of the parish church funds will be held at the Royal British Legion Hall on Saturday, October 19, at 7.30pm. Tickets £5. Book your supper with Val 761643, or Joan 708254.

Prefects all set to lead by example

TEACHERS are hoping outstanding pupils at their school will set an example to others. Selected Year 8 pupils at Castle Hill Community Middle School, in Burton End, Haverhill, have been made prefects. Their deputy head, Tania Devereux, hopes that giving the pupils "greater autonomy and responsibility" will make them proud. She said: "They carry out numerous duties including lunch and break time supervisions and taking calls in the office during lunchtime.

They are a great help to staff and peers alike. Younger pupils are already asking if they can be prefects when they are in Year 8." Prefects first had to complete a written application and interview with the deputy head. The successful applicants then signed a contract. Two were appointed to be head boy and head girl. The prefects wear blazers provided by parents and teachers and badges to distinguish them.

Depot go-ahead despite objection

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

PLANS for a new borough council depot just off the bypass at Haverhill have been approved despite objections from Haverhill Town Council.

The town council objected to the plan because of the lack of on-road parking in the immediate area and wanted to see parking provision for 29 cars – rather than the 20 proposed – or a condition to provide a staff bus to the site for five years from its completion.

But members of St Edmundsbury Borough Council's development control committee meeting approved revised plans for the depot, which will replace the existing one on the former Station Yard site in the town centre which is due to become part of the new Tesco supermarket development.

The report to councillors said 20 visitor and staff parking spaces would be provided, as well as a covered cycle store and separate parking spaces for vehicles used at the depot.

The plan was in accordance with adopted car parking standards and the layout met highway standards, so that there would be no negative impact on existing highway safety.

As the Highway Authority had not requested a green travel plan or a staff bus, it was felt a condition requesting this would be unreasonable.

The report said: "It is not considered that the revisions to the scheme merit the inclusion of further parking spaces or the inclusion of other accessibility measures.

"The proposed development has been thoughtfully designed with consideration given to the visual implications of the proposal.

"There would be no environmental harm or adverse impacts as a result of the proposal."

Farmhouse intruders

INTRUDERS got into a country farmhouse on Wednesday, October 3, by making a hole in the roof where a man was startled by an alarm.

Nothing was stolen during the break-in at Stradishall between 10am and 3pm and the offenders fled the property as the alarm sounded. Anyone with information about the incident should call PC Dean Bailey at Clare police on (01284) 774 100.

Kitten found

THE owner of a kitten found on the Parkway estate in Haverhill on Monday night is being sought. The four-month-old ginger and white male kitten was found by Mark Vowles. Anyone who can help reunite the kitten with its owner can ring 07717 067 170.

Refreshing change of plan

PROPOSALS to open a new cafe in a former charity shop in Jubilee Walk, Haverhill, have been submitted to planners.

A change of use planning application from retail to food and drink at the site has been sent to St Edmundsbury Borough Council by Harry and Tia Zachgariou, who already run the Déjà Vu sandwich shop and coffee bar in Queen Street.

Jubilee Walk recently underwent a £460,000 renovation scheme, with further work to be done on the bus station area, ahead of the opening of the nearby new multi-screen cinema complex next summer.

Flats bid

PLANS to build a four storey block of four flats with garages at basement level, associated parking and bin storage at Crowland Road, Haverhill, have been submitted to planners.

St Edmundsbury Borough Council will make a final decision on the bid.

Equine plan

CHANGE of use consent from agriculture to equestrian at Cartlodge Stables, Chimney Street, Hunderon, is the subject of a planning application which has been submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

Pair swap bar for Great Wall

AFTER almost 25 years of pulling pints former landlords David and Marion Rowlinson tested their stamina by walking along the Great Wall of China. The couple retired from running the Plough Inn at Hunderon, near Haverhill, earlier this year. They decided to take on the challenge along with a group of 20 others walkers to raise £5,500 for the St Nicholas Hospice in Bury St Edmunds. Back from the adventure, Mr Rowlinson said it seemed to have flown by very quickly. He said: "I can thoroughly recommend it, it is a wonderful experience. It was challenging, but we did manage it.

"We got up at 4.30am one morning to see the sun come up, which was spectacular. We had a steep climb to get to Black Dragon Paw Park, which was interesting, but hairy at times.

"There were a lot of steep climbs, narrow ledges and rough terrain. At times you just had to keep your head down and climb. We climbed a total of about 1,200 steps - you just thought about the step immediately in front of you." The former host said the couple received a warm welcome from locals: "We stopped at someone's house for lunch one day and they were very friendly. "We have still got a little way to go with the fund-raising so we will be organising more events. We might consider taking another trip somewhere else in future if something interesting came up." Silver surfers boost workshops

ON-LINE computer taster sessions for the over-50s are so popular that Cambridgeshire Libraries has organised extra workshops.

So far nearly 400 "silver surfers" around Cambridgeshire have taken advantage of the EngAGE sessions, funded by UK Online.

Maggie Brown, EngAGE project co-ordinator, said: "Our courses are continuing to attract a lot of interest. We have been overwhelmed by the response from the public and are therefore, for the second time since the programme was launched, adding extra sessions to cope with demand."

Leader says residents will not pay road toll shortfall

BY Chris Elliott

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A COUNCIL chief has denied tax payers in Cambridgeshire may have to pick up the tab for the controversial congestion charge.

The county council is preparing a bid for £465 million from the Government to pay for the introduction of the scheme, and a package of public transport projects.

But the overall cost has been pinpointed as £517 million, leaving a shortfall of nearly £52 million.

The council says it will negotiate with the Government to see how the extra money can be found.

But Cambridge Conservative Association, which is concerned about the impact of introducing the congestion charge, says the shortfall is a "black hole".

The association's spokesman, Richard Normington, said the council had hinted that housing developers could be asked to find the money – but the association fears local taxpayers may end up paying.

He said: "If that is the case, then other good causes in need of money from the county's Council Tax will suffer. It seems the council is trying to hide the true costs of the whole scheme, which are now coming out in the small print."

The county has been urged by city council Lib-Dems to ensure city residents do not have to pay the full charge if it is introduced. The county council is proposing a £5 charge between 7.30am and 9.30am Monday to Friday, and has said residents must pay, too.

Sian Reid, executive city councillor for climate change and growth, said: "I'm very concerned there is still no mention in the county council's plans of either a substantial discount for city residents or discounts for disabled drivers and those unable to use other modes of transport."

Coun Shona Johnstone, county council leader, said: "We have to find out what the impact will be on congestion if residents are discounted."

On claims about the shortfall, she said: "The majority, if not all, of this 10 per cent will come from developers who are building new houses in the area."

Blind high-flier beats odds

A YOUNG blind woman proved that being visually impaired has not held her back by gaining her degree a year early. Christina Davis refuses to let her disability stop her from trying to lead a normal life. She gained 10 GCSEs and two A-levels at Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College in Haverhill, before moving on to university after just one year at sixth form to start a Business Management degree.

The 21-year-old studied at West Suffolk College in Bury St Edmunds where staff helped by making sure notes and lectures were available in Braille.

And the proud student was singled out for special praise from principal Dr Ann Williams at her college's graduation ceremony.

Now her next ambition is to get a full-time job. The Broadcroft Crescent, Haverhill, resident said: "When I first got there I was only just 18 and the youngest there.

"It was quite daunting and the course was quite difficult, but you just have to get on with it.

"I had my helper with me and she would Braille out things for me when I needed her to.

"I can touch-type and I just have to get someone to check it for me.

"I really want to get a job, some kind of administrative office work to start with, I don't mind trying anything."

Mum Maggie said: "We are very proud of her, it has not been easy, but she has always been very determined to do as much as she can."

Dr Williams said: "Christina was a very special student.

"She is totally blind. This obviously challenged us."

She said: "Christina admits this has been really hard work, but it's a tremendous outcome and shows just what can be achieved if you are determined enough."

Show's crafty ideas for giving

PLENTY of gift ideas will be all wrapped up when Chilford Hall, Linton, hosts the 11th Eastern Events Crafts for Christmas Show on October 19, 20 and 21.

The fair is held entirely in Chilford's indoor exhibition halls to offer visitors the opportunity to browse among the wares of more than 70 exhibitors from across the region, without any wet weather problems.

Doors open at the event between 1pm-5pm on the Friday, and then from 10am to 5pm on the Saturday and Sunday.

There will also be makers demonstrating crafts, edible treats to try and buy in the food hall, a Make and Take workshop for children and the chance for the young, or young at heart, to try throwing their own pot.

Admission is £3 for adults with free parking. OAPs pay £2.50, and children under 14 go free.

Pupils carve out a place in top art list

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

YOUNG sculptors have made their mark by getting their work listed in print alongside greats such as Henry Moore and Rodin.

Students at Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College in Haverhill created a large sculpture of Socrates which greets visitors as they arrive at the front of the building. Other impressive works can also be found in the grounds.

Last week the statues were inspected by the compilers of the Public Works and Sculptures register, who took photographs and will include details in their publication later this year. This nationwide register includes all important monuments and sculptures in the country.

Neil Williams, the head of art at Samuel Ward, said: "Myself and the students who made the sculptures at our site are extremely pleased and proud to have our work nationally recognised by the board, who are recording all public monuments and sculptures for a national registry."

"For our students to have their names alongside artists such as Henry Moore and Rodin

■ SET IN STONE . . . students take a closer look at the Socrates sculpture after it was unveiled in 2005.

in the same book is truly exciting."

One impressive 10ft high concrete sculpture was made in 2003 by Mr Williams and Year 10 pupils, Hannah New and Jake Hearns who gave up most of their summer holiday to work on the piece.

Called Chochmah, a Hebrew word meaning "the beginning of a wise idea", it was created by first making clay models, then casting sections in concrete and "dressing" them by carving into the surface.

The work features four figures, arranged like points on a compass, to symbolise the journey through life.

The piece took about 30 wheelbarrows of concrete to make and is set on a raised plinth.

It is in a paved courtyard which has been created as part of an environmental project to improve the school grounds.

A time capsule containing details of the artists involved, plus information about everyday life in 2003 – such as the price of fish and chips – was placed in the middle of the sections.

Reserve a space for gangsters

IT'S THE lull before the storm at the Haverhill Arts Centre as the venue gets ready for a busy few weeks ahead. In the meantime, romantic comedy No Reservations (PG), starring Catherine Zeta-Jones and based on Sandra Nettlebeck's Mostly Martha, is showing tomorrow at 7.45pm. Master chef Kate Armstrong lives her life like she runs her kitchen at a trendy Manhattan eatery, with a no-nonsense intensity that intimidates and captivates. Her perfectionist nature is put to the test when she takes over care of her nine-year-old niece Zoe while contending with a brash new sous-chef.

■ Centre Stage Company's latest extravaganza, Bugsy Malone, featuring a cast of more than 50 local youngsters, comes to town from next Tuesday until Saturday, October 20. It's New York, 1929 and Fat Sam's gangster enterprises are under threat from his rival, Dandy Dan, whose new weapon, the splurge gun, has rendered Sam's custard pies obsolete. Sam asks Bugsy Malone to help and Bugsy recruits an army of the down-and-outs to help Sam. Get ready for a big climax: splurge guns at the ready!

the most sought-after drummers on the circuit and has long been associated with composer and multi instrumentalist Django Bates. The concert starts at 7.30pm and tickets are £8-£15. Call (01223) 511 511 to book.

Wainwright taps into flowing river of sound

By Nik Shelton

RUFUS Wainwright may have been born in New York and brought up in Montreal, but music first brought him to Cambridge when he was still in short trousers.

The latest in a dynasty of folk singers, alongside sister Martha and father Loudon Wainwright III, he performs regularly at the Cambridge Folk Festival. His mother Kate McGarrigle, and aunt Anna, have also appeared on stage at Cherry Hinton Hall.

"When I was a kid I came once with my mother and once with my father as well, I was probably about six or seven years old," Wainwright recalls.

Since that early introduction to the musical world he's gone on to become one of the most talked about artists of his generation. His success began with wild critical acclaim rather than record sales but his most recent album, Release the Stars, has tipped him into the mainstream musical consciousness and it reached number two in the album charts. As well as ruling the roost as a singer-songwriter he has already started writing his first opera. Prima Donna will follow a day in the life of an opera singer and is being lined up for New York's Metropolitan Opera House. He said: "It's a long-term process but I expect something will be imminent in about a year. "For years I had no story which I felt attached to and no driving characters to give life to and once I found them those people came to life and I had no choice but to write it. "The thing with opera is opera lovers are chosen by opera and not the other way round. It's something you either get or you don't. But even for those who don't get it I believe that if you put your head to it and actually make a concerted effort you can find something redeeming."

Just to make the task even more impressive, he is writing the libretto in French – "because it sounds better," he explains.

The project comes from a deep love of music, a love which also led him to pay tribute last year to the woman he calls a "gay saint", Judy Garland, when he recreated her famous 1961 Carnegie Concert Hall performance in its entirety.

"It all falls precisely into my general theory of music which is that I'm not the one doing the writing, all the great songs and operas and symphonies are already out there and you just have to tap into that river and be the bucket which feeds the people.

"I think it comes from the universe. All of that hostile environment out there with stars colliding and galaxies exploding – it has to make some kind of sound."

Rufus Wainwright plays the Cambridge Corn Exchange on Sunday, October 21. Tickets are £25. Call (01223) 357 851.

Phil's big musical celebration

By Nik Shelton

THE Cambridge Phil launches a new season of music on Sunday when it invites trumpet soloist Alison Balsom to West Road.

The Cambridge Philharmonic Society has lined up everything from opera to Elgar, and contemporary composers to music for children in a season which features several top soloists and singers at West Road, Ely Cathedral and the college chapels. Sunday sees Gramophone and Classical Brit-award winner, Alison Balsom, performing Zimmermann's Trumpet Concerto. The evening will also feature Shostakovich's Suite for Variety.

Orchestra and Vaughan Williams' A London Symphony. Then in November, Heather Shipp, star of the recent production of Carmen at the Corn Exchange, returns to the city and will again perform some of the highlights from Bizet's classic opera. The concert will also feature pieces from the comic opera Flight by the society's new composer-in-residence Jonathan Dove. Dove's Japanese inspired piece, Hojoiki, will provide the centrepiece for a concert in March which will also feature countertenor Andrew Watts.

Two of the season's highlights for Redmond will be getting the chance to conduct Durufle's Requiem at St John's College Chapel in May and a full scale performance of one of his favourite pieces, Mahler's Symphony No 2, at King's College Chapel in June. With brass pieces, including Patterson and Saint Saens, in December, a concert for children with classic movie tunes such as Indiana Jones and Mission Impossible in February and a season finale featuring one of the world's most famous cellists, Natalie Clein, at Ely Cathedral, it's shaping up to be an eclectic and intriguing season.

Sunday's opening season concert at West Road Concert Hall features guest trumpet soloist Alison Balsom and starts at 7.30pm. Tickets are £8-£15. To book call (01223) 503 333.

If you're a First Time Buyer, £315 per month could be very helpful for that first difficult year of property ownership. For example, a £600 mortgage sounds expensive, make that £285 and it all seems a lot more affordable.

If you're looking at buy-to-let, that £315 could well make the difference between making a profit each month or a loss.

On specific plots at Barnaby Way, the new development in Haverhill, Abbey will pay £315 per month into your bank account every month for a year, no catches, no questions!

To find out more come and visit us on site between 10am and 5pm on Saturday, 20th or Sunday, 21st October. Our sales staff will be able to show you the properties and an independent mortgage advisor will be on hand to give you an idea of what you can borrow and how much repayments will be.

MOTORING

Mazda: You'll soon want 2

FIRST off, this new Mazda2 looks good.

I'd almost go so far as to say sleek. Its smooth lines are an improvement over the last (box-shaped) 2 and it looks like the kind of thing you'd pop outside and feel proud to own (except in the distinctly unpleasant 'signature' green).

The interior aesthetics aren't to be sneezed at; all rounded-off edges and ergonomics. The plastics aren't that great, though. The soft-touch black that makes up most of the dash is OK but the harsh, solid black that surrounds the door pockets and CD player seems cheap.

When new, it'll be very shiny, polished and pretty. My concern lies with how it'll look in three years time, though.

Nice interior features include a glovebox with a magazine rack-type thing attached to the front of it. While it seems like a good idea, it limits space inside the glovebox itself and it could become a storage nightmare. There is also a handy bag space next to the handbrake.

It handles well in the twisty bits, which I mainly put down to its 960kg weight. The 1.5-litre engine in the test car was very rev-happy,

FIRST DRIVE

Nice car, just avoid green!

but it did sound a bit thrashy after 5,000rpm. Still, it was perfectly prepared to pull me along to almost illegal speeds in seemingly little time.

The 1.5 boasts 101bhp and 101lb ft – and in a car that weighs less than a tonne, it's pretty pokey. 0-62 is dealt with in a shade over ten seconds, and it'll fly on to a top speed of 116mph if you give it enough legroom (where it is legal to do so, ahem).

The windscreen is nice and big, the wing mirrors are huge and the rear window is plenty big enough to see the world through, but one thing really screwed up the visibility credentials; the A-pillars. They're huge, and when I was taking uphill left handers my view of the road was almost wiped out. It seems that in order to make the car safe in a crash, manufacturers have to make vision compromises. But then again, there aren't many twisty mountain roads in the UK and the cars we get will have the steering wheel on the right hand side.

■ THE MAZDA2 ... a great little car and you don't have to have it in this colour!

As I said earlier, I was testing the 1.5 model, which is currently the biggest engine you can get. You can have it with a Sport Pack, which earns you a sporty body kit and a revised front grille. Personally I think it looks better without the kit, but some might disagree.

There's plenty of room in the rear, but you do sit pretty much over the rear axle, so your bum acts as a sort of shock absorber. It wasn't much of a problem on smooth Italian roads, but journeys in the back on our bumpy excuses for roads may result in piles.

BASICALLY ...

All in all, it's a very fun little car and given the choice I'd probably have one – I'd definitely let my mum have one (anything other than her Clio!).

1 Series Convertible is a great-looking BMW motor

BMW UK has announced the first details of the new BMW 1 Series Convertible, "the world's first premium compact convertible".

Powered by five different engines, from the entry-level 143hp 118i Convertible to the 'bahn-storming 306hp 135i Convertible, the open-topped 1 Series makes use of elements of BMW's EfficientDynamics programme to deliver high performance but with economical and low-emission, roof-down motoring.

The Convertible is the fourth derivative of 1 Series to be launched and will carry over much of the styling and technology from the recently announced coupe model. The obvious addition is a fabric roof that opens or closes in 22 seconds and at speeds of up to 25mph. The roof is available in a choice of black, beige or the world's first metallic folding roof which is an innovative material interwoven with fine shiny metal fibres.

The convertible shares many visual details with the coupe and has a very similar silhouette to the two door car with short overhangs and raising style lines. The Convertible also gains the coupe's standard M Sport aerodynamic package which features redesigned sills, front splitter and rear diffuser along with 17-inch alloy wheels and larger brakes.

The 1 Series Convertible retains the hatchback's seating for four, although the back may be cramped for taller passengers. The interior also includes two rather complicated technologies, SunReflective Leather and a clever air conditioning system. Put simply, the leather uses "cool pigments" that reflect the sun's infrared rays. This sounds very gimmicky but it can reduce the seats temperature by up to 20 degrees Celsius – a blessing to anyone who has ever sat on hot leather seats. The air conditioning system recognises when the roof is down and changes its focus from the interior conditions and more on the outside temperature and sunlight.

Prices and further details will be released soon.

We are entering a new and exciting period of growth and development, and are expanding our fundraising team to meet the increased demand in income. To support our ambitious aims, we are looking for a confident, self-motivated and experienced Regional Fundraiser, who is committed and ready to rise to the challenge, to establish this brand new post in the region. Management Accountant ProCam Group Ltd

£25K - £30K + study + benefits

As the largest agronomy company in the UK, ProCam expanded from a single regional business in 1979 to a nationwide business whose agronomists now walk over one million acres of crops providing technical support to the UK's top producers. We will be relocating, early in 2008, to ultra-modern offices in a pleasant location just outside of Cambridge.

Reporting to the Chief Accountant, this is a highly visible, commercially focussed role. You will produce monthly management accounts for a number of subsidiary companies. This will include profit & loss and balance sheet accounts as well as budgeting & variance analysis. You'll also produce cost and sales analysis reports for Management review and will collate and review month end reports. It's a small team and very much a hands-on role so you will be expected to turn your hand to other tasks - such as managing our bank account and producing VAT returns.

As either a part-qualified or finalist accountant with management accounting experience gained from within a complex commercial organisation, you will possess outstanding communication skills and the gravitas to liaise and influence at every level. As well as an excellent salary & benefits package, you'll have the ability to make a significant impact on the further growth of the company.

For further information on this role, please contact our retained Consultant, Nick Culley at Pure Resourcing Solutions Ltd on 01223 209884 or e-mail nick@prs.uk.com

All direct applications will be forwarded to Pure Resourcing Solutions.

United look to tie up teenager Morrison

CAMBRIDGE United hope to start talks with Michael Morrison over a new contract with the club in the near future.

The 19-year-old defender's agreement is up next summer and the U's want to keep hold of the Haverhill youngster, who was an ever-present last season.

United were able to snub an undisclosed offer for the England C international from Southend during the summer as he was under contract.

Several other League clubs are also believed to have shown interest in Morrison, including Bristol Rovers and Hartlepool.

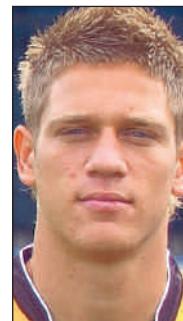

And U's chairman Lee Power is wary of being left in the same situation as last term when top scorer Robbie Simpson left the Abbey at the end of his contract, United receiving just £40,000 in compensation from Coventry following a tribunal.

He said: "He has started the season very well and we'll be looking to make him another offer because we want to keep him. We're going to sit down soon and look at 'Morro's' contract to try to entice him into staying."

Morrison, who has had trials with Chelsea, Everton and Newcastle, said he just wanted to focus on playing for United.

He said: "Nothing has really been spoken about yet. There's a long way to go and it won't be for a while until things start happening. I'm just concentrating on trying to help United win games."

Jackson's goal earns Gunners success in cup

(after extra time)

CAMBS COLTS U14 LEAGUE CUP,
FIRST ROUND

GRAMPIAN welcomed league leaders Hardwick to the Sports Field for this first round cup game.

The home side started brightly and scored through Luke Halls after great work between Tom Bailey and Sam Newton.

Two minutes into the second half and the lead was doubled when Luke Youngs' corner was powerfully headed home by Jordan Palazon.

The visitors then scored twice to take the game into extra time.

Gunners' winner, eight minutes from the end, was a beauty.

Youngs' free kick was headed on by Halls and Jordan Jackson smashed home a volley to send Grampian into Round two.

West Wrating U10 Reds 5

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE U10 CUP

WRATTING Reds travelled to Tottenham to take part in their first cup match in this age group.

The visitors got the start they wanted when Stephen Boyles fired home for their first score.

Will Bailey's fine solo run and unstoppable shot gave Wrating a two-goal advantage midway through the first period.

Wrating frontman Alex Carter scored two quick goals to put the away side further ahead going into the interval.

The second half resumed with the away side controlling the game, despite several efforts hitting the crossbar from distance.

The home side's goal led a charmed life. It was finally breached when Boyles dispatched his second of the game and Wrating's fifth.

West Wrating U10 Yellows 3
Witchford Colts U10B 1

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE U10 CUP
WRATTING were quick off the mark in this exciting cup match.

A corner from Dion Whitrid was flicked home by Charlie Ellam after two minutes.

The rest of the half saw end-to-end football.

James Woodward, Scott Bishop and Liam Gibbs marshalled the Wrating defence superbly, while Jake Murphy, Matt Carpenter and Jack Harvey pressured Witchford's goal.

After 10 minutes of the second half, Murphy netted to make it 2-0.

Minutes later Witchford scored, but Leyton George steadied the Wrating nerves with a long-range effort to seal it at 3-1.

Thurlow Youth U11 10
Wilbraham Warriors U11 1

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, DIVISION U11A
LEON Bailey scored his first league goal for Thurlow just four minutes into his debut.

He then went on to complete his hat-trick within the opening 20 minutes.

Marsh also scored twice before half time to give Thurlow a 5-0 advantage at the interval.

It took just 30 seconds into the second half for Goodings to head home the sixth and, two minutes later, Bates finished as stylishly.

With 10 minutes remaining, Williamson was rewarded with a goal before Ripp and Marsh made it 10-0.

In the dying seconds, Wilbraham scored a well deserved goal.

Thurlow's Kirtling Garage man of the match trophy was awarded to new face Bailey.

TENNIS

Unbeaten Gregory leads way

HAVERHILL Tennis Club staged a special tournament for young players just starting out in the sport.

The Red mini tennis team event, for children born in 2000 or later, was a fun competition, giving youngsters the chance to participate in a team environment.

Players from Haverhill and the surrounding schools played competitive matches on the outside courts at the club.

Lois Newlands, Zak Bott, Tommy Gower, Joshua Gray, Toby Catley and

Reece Coster were all playing in their first tournament, and were pleased with their certificates and medals for the day. Gregory Birch did exceptionally well, winning all of his matches, which proved crucial in a closely-fought match between the two teams.

The winning team was Birch, Catley, Ethan Webb and Joshua Gray, who narrowly beat Theo Symmonds and the rest of the team.

Haverhill's Juniors have enjoyed a successful season.

They won the Suffolk division of the National U12 boys' league, while the U14 girls have won all of their matches so far. Some of these juniors have also been playing for the adult teams of Haverhill.

Haverhill's mixed day

HAVERHILL skipper Dave Quinney put his team's 20-5 loss to Harwich & Dovercourt down to playing in fits and starts in Eastern Counties Two. The visitors went ahead with two tries inside the first 20 minutes, but centre Chris Clayton reduced the arrears with his own touchdown. However, scores from Harwich either side of half time, sealed their win. Quinney said: "We played really well in places again, but they were a very well-drilled side. We were bashing them up front in the forwards, at the mauls and we were going forward. "It was silly handling mistakes and we just didn't finish anything off."

Angels off the mark

ANGELS recorded their first win in their history with an accomplished and disciplined display.

Rose & Crown took the lead against the run of play after a mistake at the back by Angels captain Craig Foster led to the opposition centre-forward scoring.

Foster made up for his error, however, with the equaliser. A long kick from goalkeeper Liam Botten was controlled by Matt Cullen, and squared for Foster to slot home to make it 1-1 at half time. Unlike in other games this season, Delaware kept their shape and discipline in the second half.

They got their reward with two quick goals from Christian Jaques.

Rose & Crown 1
Delaware Feather Angels 4

SUDSBURY SUNDAY LEAGUE,
DIVISION FIVE

With a two-goal lead, Delaware started to enjoy themselves, with the midfield four of Webb, Foster, Salter and Cullen pulling the strings and creating a handful of chances which were not converted.

With Rose & Crown chasing the game and pushing more men forward, Delaware's back four of Strasters, Townsend, Pilbrow and Morley had to hold firm. Sean McCormack put the icing on the cake for Angels with a late goal. Angels' man of the match was James Strachan.

Simpson's treble puts Withersfield on road

Withersfield U11 8
Newmarket Town U11 B 3

CAMBS COLTS LEAGUE, DIVISION 11B

ANOTHER great team performance produced an emphatic Withersfield win.

The scoring kicked off with Newmarket gifting an own goal to Withersfield.

This was followed by goals from Jake Simpson (2), Rory Jebb and Joe Baker.

Newmarket fought back to score, but Simpson completed a hat-trick before half time.

The second half started with a Newmarket goal, but Withersfield responded with two more strikes from Liam Roberts and Jebb.

Newmarket then scored a third from a penalty, but it was not enough and the final whistle saw Withersfield triumphant again.

Soham Town Colts 0
West Wrating U11 4

WRATTING took the game to Soham from the first whistle and had the majority of first-half possession.

But it was not until the second half that the deadlock was finally broken when Bush fired into the top corner.

A well directed header from Stevenson put Wrating 2-0 up.

Soham hit the post, before Lambert netted Wrating's third with a diving header and Stevenson wrapped things up with a stunning strike.
